Comments: I went to speak with Jason at the Chocolate Angel's animal rescue about Paco the pitbull that was hit by a car. I asked Jason to please refer the people to a vet or to call the Spca if they can't afford a vet. I told Jason that I know that they are trying to help the community, but it's making our job more difficult. Jason told me that he only gave the dog a Tramadol tablet for the pain ,and if he had donations he would have taken the dog to the vet. Jason says that he understands and will refer these cases to the vet or Spca in the future. Will follow up.
