Dear Roshin,

Thank you for bringing up the concern regarding Dogs Deserve Better's recent Facebook entry. I want to shed light on the fact that this organisation has been using similar tactics for some time now to solicit donations.

Dogs Deserve Better frequently posts appeals on Facebook showcasing thin dogs and requests donations based on these distressing images. However, when pressed for more details or action taken on these cases, they often deflect or provide minimal information. Additionally, they mislead the public by falsely claiming that the SPCA does not take action when cases are reported to us, which is entirely untrue.

In response to your complaint, our inspector, October, will conduct a thorough inspection at Dogs Deserve Better's kennels. The primary aim of this visit is to gather concrete details regarding the emaciated dog featured in their Facebook post.

Following this, we will also conduct an inspection of their facility to ensure compliance with animal welfare standards.

Kind regards,

Louise van Zyl
