General Report Comments: The owner was home during my visit at the property when I arrived. He was found asleep as he was working nightshift. He owns 4 Dachshund puppies and they appeared to be have a skin condition and other still developing the condition. 2 puppies' skin appeared to be peeling off but the owner was using home remedies such as Betadine™ and not getting proper treatment for them. I was able to convince him to surrender 2 puppies to the Sandton SPCA that were most affected by the condition and told him to take the remaining one to a vet. He said he will do so. I issued a written warning to him to rectify this urgently. To follow up
