General Report Comments: I passed by the house as mentioned to Mr Makeketa and found him there. The dog's irritation had gone significantly down today. The Blikkie was prescribed a Bravecto tablet for flea-bite dermatitis. The male was still separated from the female and will be reintegrated after Tuesday next week as per the vet's advice according to Mr Makeketa. He is still adamant about getting the dogs sterilized, saying he would just like to have one litter of puppies before sterilizing them so he could take them to a relative's farm regardless of my advice about the unforeseeable effects of giving away dogs. I will be coming back on the 3rd of October 2024 to keep up with reintegration of the dogs
