Comments: I was contacted by a Zimbabwean phone user via a WhatsApp call in response to my warning, saying he is the owner of unit 86 at the Ravens Hill Estate. The owner, Mr Guy Chingaya, stated that he is shocked by these allegations, but he did request the trustees to remove the nest of this bird, but was told they cannot remove it because it is not legal. I told him that he cannot insist on the removal of the bird nest in his unit under such circumstances; instead, allow us to take precautionary measures for the safety of the chicks. I advised him that I strongly don't encourage removing or disturbing the nesting bird, as it is likely to cause stress or stress-related trauma/diseases. He mentioned returning to the country in the next week so that we can strategise how to take precautions for the birds' safety . I assured him that the birds will move on as soon as the chicks have fledged. I'll contact Mr Chingaya next week
