General Report Comments: One of the staff members, Mrs Tolerance, came to the gate and then called the estate manager named Brenda Spies, to grant me access into the premises to check on the peacock. I was invited to inspect the fowl's living situation. They own an adult peacock free roaming in the yard. Water and food were available. The property operates a guest house(put on the market for sale), and they've reportedly had the peacock for several years. The owner, who was in Israel, was willing to let go of the Peacock, but Mrs Spies told me that she had already made arrangements for their transfer to another rescue in Hartebeesport when we spoke over the phone over the coming weekend. They claimed they had the Peacock's wings clipped to prevent him from flying off, and they don't believe that he flew into the neighbours' yard. She said she will be taking the peacock to the Owl Rescue Sanctuary in Harties, even after being offered to have the peacock surrendered to the Sandton SPCA. I told her that I will be checking with her soon to find out whether the transfer was successful.
