General Report Comments: The dogs were in the front yard upon arrival. I was informed the dogs are always in the front yard as the back yard is used for the humans to relax without the dogs. In the front underneath a carport two large wooden kennels were present for the dogs. A large shell bath was next to the kennels filled with fresh water. Stainless steel bowls were present but empty as the dogs had already eaten their food.

At the time of inspection the dogs were not wearing collars. The owner informed me that they have a vibration collar for the female dog and proceeded to show me the collar and remote. There is no voltage/shock function. I was told the dogs got out two days prior and they were only in the veld opposite for a few minutes until she managed to get them back inside the yard. The gardener supposedly forgot the gate was still open.
