Comments:	Enzeo and I,Hugh arrived at the property and were greeted by Evelien Boshoff .She then mentioned that the worker who helped us the first time was not there. We then walked through house to where the dog was being kept and she then tried luring with biscuits so we can get the catch pole around the dog as it is highly aggressive. We then struggled as the dog seemed very unpredictable even towards it's care taker.We then asked her to move it to a different location as we tried luring it with chicken so it could get inside the crate we brought.The catch pole could not be effective as he spotted it and ran away immediately . She then called her son who is the owner of the dog and mentioned to him that the dog does not want to budge.He then just brushed her off and said he is extremely busy at the moment.He then mentioned he will sort it out tomorrow. She then called the animal hospital and canceled the appointment. NFA.
