Comments:	We arrived at the property to remove Ladys stiches and saw that the bump is still on her stitch side and blue. For safety we took her to WAHG to be checked under G 1/99. The veterinarian said the site looks okay and that the bump should disappear in two weeks and get smaller. It is not a hernia. If it gets bigger we must bring her back to WAHG. I took a photo of the site for comparison. She also mentioned that Lady should not be as active. We returned her home and told the boy we will come and check the wound weekly to make sure she is fine.
