General Report Comments: I,Hugh arrived at the property and noticed an open door from outside the property.I then called and one of the tenants looked out the door seemingly annoyed.I then greeted her and introduced myself.

I explained to her that I have received a complaint about a dog possibly confined or chained.She then laughed and mentioned that the person who complained was unnecessary and that she was not the owner of the yard so she couldn't let me in.I then asked her whether I could just see the dog in order to make sure the animal was okay and she mentioned that the dog would want to attack me as it does not like"brown" people.

I then asked whether I could have a contact number of the owner and she said she doesn't have the contact number.I then said I'll just take a picture across the wall as I could see from the gate that the dog wasn't chained.As I was taking a picture the tenant left.

To go back tomorrow.
