Please describe the concern you have

Rottweiler in pain for more than a month with a severe infection in lower leg. The leg is swollen and it appears that he is getting worse by the day. He is not getting up anymore and is unable to walk. I have asked the owner to ensure that the dog receive treatment. He only said that the dog is unwilling to take antibiotics. I am not sure if this is true, but intervention is needed. He is suffering. Note: the dog is not aggressive.
