Subject: Eddie (dog) - Milnerton/Jacqi van der Veen

For the inspector on the Jacqi van der Veen dog "Eddie" Milnerton case - see also attached. I see, also, that at this post CoGH SPCA is asked whether the dog has seen a vet yet. I actually saw someone asked same question earlier today and Jaqui deleted that.
<https://www.facebook.com/share/p/17mWppZRTV/> See also the attached. Evidence of keeping lots of kittens aside from the dogs on the property. Also very DIY - she gave a dog of hers that vomited cortisone! (along with activated charcoal). Cortisone the very last thing one would give a dog that had just vomited. Really the premises as a whole are deserving of a careful assessment, but my biggest worry remains Eddie. I don't believe he's likely to have seen a vet yet. Last Saturday she said he needs a vet, this carried on into Sunday, excuses kept coming thick and fast and again on Mon and Tues till I alerted CoGH SPCA and NSPCA on Tuesday morning. I couldn't take another moment of the circus. See attached. Some good fodder there.
