Comments:	Messaged the owner to ask if the goat with the old broken leg was euthanised. He informed me that one of the workers at the farm sold the goat but he was not there and could not get the details of the person. When he got to the farm and asked, they told him its someone who sells animals to restaurants and food places, as they told the guy the goat must be slaughtered due to its injury. He was not able to get details or pictures confirming slaughter. I will add this case to my meeting with Rudi to discuss this, as well as the feed story.
