Thank you for caring about a pet you can no longer keep. Giving your pet to the SPCA will mean that you cannot get it back. Do you accept this?

We never turn any animal away which means we often face capacity constraints . As a charity, we also have limited resources with which to care for a very high volume of admissions. We cannot guarantee that your pet will be rehomed. Do you accept this?

The SPCA rehomes responsibly, and for that reason cannot rehome aggressive animals or animals with serious health issues. Humane euthanasia may be considered following veterinary or behavioural assessment. Do you accept this?

The shelter environment can be stressful for some pets who are used to living in a home. If your pet is unable to cope, humane euthanasia may be recommended by a qualified veterinarian or animal behaviourist. Do you accept this?

Before proceeding, it is important to understand that surrendering an animal is a permanent decision.

As part of the surrender process, the owner will be required to complete and sign surrender documentation. By signing these documents, the owner legally transfers all rights and ownership of the animal to the SPCA. Once the paperwork has been signed and the surrender has been finalized, the animal becomes the property of the SPCA.

Please note that there is no cooling-off period following a surrender. This means that the owner will not be able to return at a later stage to reclaim the animal, as the transfer of ownership is final and irrevocable.

Please confirm that you have read and understood the above and that you are happy to proceed?
